Before you know it, summer will be here which brings about Fine Arts Camp. We will be doing our own version of Beauty and the Beast. There will be parts for anyone who would like one and the actual rolls will be played by the older kids. The younger children will have their own place within the story but during the actual camp will do their own activities. More information will be forthcoming over the next few months but pencil it in your calendars! (July 9th - 20th)
